Restaurant 1858

Colorado's most majestic series of waterfalls, Seven Falls, is the setting for this casual dining adventure. The thunder of falling water adds a spectacular element to the already remarkable experience, where the cuisine takes inspiration from the region's traditional heritage of early frontier cooking to create a seasonal menu of uniquely Colorado dishes. Home to the epitome of Colorado cuisine; try the Bison Bistro Steak, a wonderfully tender cut of meat that's robust in flavor. It's served with locally sourced mushrooms (from just up the road in Fort Collins), fire roasted brussels sprouts, and house made 1858 spiced compound butter.

Location: Inside the Seven Falls Park at the base of the falls. Short transfer required.
